1. Fence; wire net, 2 m high.

2. Main entrance; wooden, temporary hut is next to the entrance which is guarded by an armed civilian guard.

3. Area of concrete constructions in the forest; probably some buildings are being built there.

4. Two steel radio masts, about 200 m high, finished in 1951. The masts are 50 m apart, there is no visible connection between the masts.

5. Four speel towers resembling radio antennas; the towers have rectangular bases about 5 x 5 m; they are 50 - 60 m high and about 50 m apart. They were built in summer 1955.

6. Two area of wooden poles connected by a net of antennas; a third area is in the middle site, west of the highway. Each area is almost a 1 of a square kilometer large. The wooden poles are 7 - 10 m apart.

7. Belt of wooden structures about 2 m high on which large white insulators are fixed; the insulators support some kind of cables.

8. Two buildings visible from the road; the bigger one is about 70 m long and 15 m wide, the smaller building is a wooden but and serves as a canteen for the workers employed on the construction.

9. Fence; wire net, 2 m high.

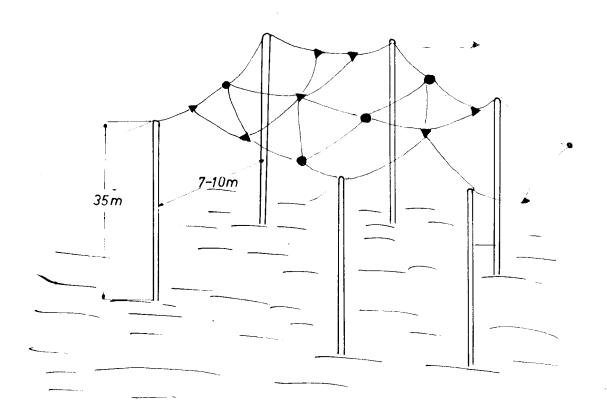

10. Entrance from the highway; a guard house is next to the entrance. A small detachment of infantry (khaki uniforms, red shoulderboards) occupies the guardhouse.

11. Two buildings wisible from the road; brick built, 70 x 15 m each. Judging by the constant movement of soldiers around the buildings, the buildings are used as billets.

12. Area of about 150 x 150 m surrounded by a wire net fence; there is a wooden hut in the area and a net of dug out canals. Underground cabel connects this area with the main site. An army sentry is guarding the area.
